

Ph.D Candidate and Researcher in the School of Arts and Humanities at the University of Lisbon, Sofia A. Carvalho frequents the Program in Literary Theory with a fellowship given by the Foundation for Science and Technology about Teixeira de Pascoaes's work and thought. Her academic path began with a degree in Philosophy [UCP, Lisboa, 2003] with the final dissertation entitled The Thanatologic Meditation in Vladimir Jankélévitch. In 2008, she obtained the Masters in Aesthetics and Philosophy of Art with the final dissertation entitled The Twilight and the Uninhabited in Teixeira de Pascoaes e Almada Negreiros Poetics. Since 2013, she has published studies and essays, especially in the areas of Aesthetics and Literature of the XIX and XX centuries and her interests include literary criticism, poetry, cinema, theater and dance.